

Service Unit Outcomes – Community and Corporate Education

Service Unit Purpose:

The primary purpose of the Center for Community and Corporate Education is to meet the workforce development needs of business, industry, and local governments as well as provide lifelong learning opportunities through professional development and personal enrichment classes.

Service Unit Outcomes:

1. A comprehensive offering of non-credit, career-track programs that provide students with in-demand occupational skills/industry certifications.
2. A comprehensive offering of non-credit, developmental classes that provide for attainment of personal goals or creative enrichment.
3. A comprehensive offering of non-credit, on-line courses designed to provide clearly specified learning objectives, supportive personal interaction and current technologies for enhanced learning.
4. Customized education for local business, industry, and governments to enhance their employee's on-the-job performance with skills for immediate use.